The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says—
"A newspaper whose columns overflow with the advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor will locate where there is enterprise. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as newspapers well patronized, and this power should be appreciated."

C. and O. Employees Now Forbidden to Enter Saloons

The officials of this Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio have promulgated an important order, effective today, to the effect that any employee who is caught entering a saloon other than on a business mission, while on duty, will be unceremoniously dismissed.

It is said that a number of the C. and O. trainmen have formed the habit of getting a drink when their trains reach Maysville and Covington.

It is reported that a prominent engineer, fireman and conductor were let out several days ago without an explanation.

It is understood, however, that they were in the habit of visiting a wet goods emporium every time their train pulled into Covington.

ANOTHER CHANCE

The Rural Route Matter Reopened in Mason County

Sometime last fall the Washington authorities sent Special Agent Niven here for the purpose of examining applicants and laying out Rural Routes in the county.

While here Niven drank good whisky, hobnobbed with Democrats and ran things to suit himself generally.

The successful applicants were all Democrats, which naturally created in the minds of many the suspicion that something was wrong in Denmark and that matters were not being conducted in a straightforward manner, as they should be.

However that may be, Niven was called on the carpet and after an investigation was relieved of his position.

Since that time Rural Route matters have remained statu quo until last week, when an applicant under the Niven regime received notification that the list as then made out was cancelled and void.

Another examination will be held, when a fair deal will be given by an honest and sober man.

In the meantime, those of our Democratic friends, who were so premature in procuring outfits, can probably dispose of them to the successful candidates at the next examination.

"There Isn't One Really Good Printer in Five Hundred."

Printers' Ink—the leading Journal on publicity of all kinds—has the following to say: "There are thousands of printers in this country, good, indifferent, and a lot of bad ones. There isn't one really good printer in five hundred. Intelligent advertisers are willing to pay for good printing, no matter where it comes from."

Printers' Ink knows what it is talking about. Poor printing is a bad investment—it's worse than a blank. A business man's stationery or booklet is like a traveling man—if it's neat, well-dressed and to the point, the first impression is good and your chances of doing business on the strength of it are good.

We realize this. We keep abreast of the times. We know what good printing is and produce it. We are pretty careful not to let a ham job get onto our presses. No press in the country can better our printing and we want you to know it.

MOST every Republican paper in the state, it seems, has been furnished with a cut of CALEB POWERS, free gratis, of course. POWERS'S picture won't save him.—Evening Bulletin.

And the author of this vindictive sentiment pretends to be a Christian. Great God!

THE latest move of the Chicago meat strikers is to tie up traffic on the railroads by forbidding freight handlers to touch shipments to or from the packing houses. When that is done, it is more than probable that Uncle Sam will take a hand in the matter, just as President CLEVELAND did in the A. R. U. strike in 1894.

THE Elks' Creed, printed below, could well be made the guide of all men to the betterment of humanity, instead of the hypocritical custom now in vogue—

"Don't keep the alabaster boxes of your love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled and made happier; the kind things you meant to say when they were gone, say before they go. The flowers you meant to send for their coffins, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have any alabaster boxes laid away, full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection, which they intend to break over my body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary, troubled hours and open them that I may be refreshed and cheered while I need them.

"I would rather have a plain coffin without a flower, a funeral without an eulogy, than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy. Post mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance back over the weary way.

"The faults of our Brothers we write upon the sands; their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory."

Political Pickings

M'QUOWN'S UNENVIABLE POSITION.

Louisville Herald.

What are lawyers to think of Mr. McQuown's conduct in misrepresenting to laymen the attitude and course of the Court of Appeals toward Caleb Powers's appeal for legal protection, if he wrote the article as a lawyer?

The code of ethics of the Kentucky Bar Association, of which Mr. McQuown is a member, reduced the professional code of ethics to writing one year ago. It contains these interesting sections:

Section 4—Courts and judicial officers, in the rightful exercise of their functions, should always receive the support and countenance of attorneys against unjust criticisms and popular clamor; and it is an attorney's duty to give them his moral support in all proper ways and particularly by setting a good example in his own person of obedience to law.

Section 17—Newspaper publications and interviews by an attorney as to the merits of pending or anticipated legislation call forth discussions and reply from the opposite party, tend to prevent a fair trial in the Courts and otherwise prejudice the due administration of justice. It requires a strong case to justify such publications.

We do not accuse Mr. McQuown of a violation of the code of ethics of his honorable profession. It would be a serious thing for a lawyer to attack in newspaper publications a helpless prisoner immured in Jail for five long years, whose case is, in fact, still pending in the highest Court in the state. Such an attack, as the code says, would "tend to prevent a fair trial in the Courts and otherwise prejudice the due administration of justice." It would poison the public mind with prejudice and greatly injure the accused's chance of getting a fair jury. Lawyers of the best conscience would feel that such a breach of the ethics of a noble profession would call for disbarment.

We assume that Mr. McQuown was not writing as an attorney or as a legal authority, but as a citizen, or, as any lawyer might do, was expressing the private opinions and prejudices he might feel for the inspiration and excitation of his fellow-citizens. In his capacity as Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee we can understand that his prejudices might be greatly aroused and excited. In that capacity Mr. Watterson has testified that Mr. McQuown is given to "double-dealing," "chicanery," is a student of peanut politics and must learn new ideas and mend his ways. What he writes in that capacity is of no consequence to lawyers, and of no moment to anybody, except that it tends to influence political prejudice against Caleb Powers and prevent him from getting the fair trial to which he is entitled.

The Handsomest Calendars Ever Shown in This City

The business man who spends his money in Mayville, simply puts that money into the hands of people who will in turn spend it with him again.

Did you ever think of that?

The business man who spends his money for printing in Louisville, or Cincinnati, or Chicago, or New York, puts that money into the hands of people who never did, nor ever will, spend a dollar in his store.

Did you ever think of that?

Now, in order that a good deal of this money may be kept at home, and spent by home workmen and home employers with home merchants, The Ledger Printery has secured the handsomest line of Calendars ever seen in this city, with a price limit to suit every need.

Mr. Richard L. Miles, The Ledger Printery's expert Printer, will call on you in a few days, dazzle your eyes with the beauties and tickle your bank account with the prices.

Fifteen hundred Chicago strikers, on the verge of starvation, were turned away disappointed from the Union Commissary store Saturday afternoon. Three hundred and sixty-one families received supplies before the store was emptied. Each destitute striker received one loaf of bread, one head of cabbage, half a peck of potatoes, a handful of onions, a package of coffee, one pound of beans, one pound of rice, one pound of oatmeal, half a pound of tea, five pounds of flour, and one bag of salt. Relief for the hundreds disappointed by the shortage is promised by the strike leaders, but the clamor of the starving men, women and children is great. This situation, in which 1,500 persons are unable to get food readily, is expected to result either in serious rioting or in a spur to the expected stampede from the Union ranks.

EISH FRY

A Jolly Crowd Enjoys a Big Feast Saturday Afternoon

Squire Rice, Walter Watson, and a host of other like genial spirits, gave a fish fry and harbore on the fishing shore near the infirmary grounds Saturday afternoon.

The fill of fare contained fish, mutton,
bread, coffee, etc.

It was prepared in a savory manner by two expert cooks, and that it was palatable to the 150 or more present, is attested by the fact that nothing was left but the platters.

Of course it was washed down by the best liquids to be found. The boys had a good time.

THOMAS J. YOUNG

Well Known Kentuckian's Sudden Death in Chicago Friday

Colonel Thomas J. Young, a prominent insurance man and former Kentucky newspaperman, died suddenly Friday night from heart disease while seated in a chair in his room in Chicago, where he had been located for some time.

Colonel Young was 55 years of age and the son of Judge John D. Young, former Congressman, who lived in Mt. Sterling.

He spent most of his time in the newspaper business and was one of the prominent Editors of the state. He was for a time the Editor of a paper at Owingsville, and later was connected with The Mt. Sterling Gazette, and some years ago was one of THE LEDGER's valued correspondents.

He studied law and was later admitted to the Bar.

After several years residence in Louisville Colonel Young went to Chicago and became interested in the life insurance business.

He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter, at the time of his death Mrs. Young being on a visit to relatives at Owingsville.
